

LIA E.BANG, MD, PhD

Staff consultant at Copenhagen University Hospital Rigshospitalet, The Heart Centre, Department of Cardiology, Copenhagen, Denmark.

Lia E.Bang, MD, PhD is a specialist in internal medicine and cardiology. She is a staff consultant at Copenhagen University Hospital Rigshospitalet, The Heart Centre, Department of Cardiology, Copenhagen, Denmark.

Dr. Bang is head of the CCU and head of the out-patient lipid clinic with special knowledge of familial hypercholesterolemia.

Dr. Bang is on the board of the Danish Society of Cardiology and the National ESC guidelines coordinator. She is chair of the Danish guidelines working group.

Dr. Bang has done research on ischemic heart disease, hyperlipoproteinemia, 24 hour blood pressure monitoring and white coat hypertension.

She has published more than 100 papers and given more than 300 lectures national and international on these subjects.

Dr. Bang is a supervisor for PhD students on the subjects Takotsubo cardiomyopathy, ischemic heart disease and familial hypercholesterolemia.