

26th Nordic-Baltic Congress of Cardiology 2017

Congress Speaker, 2017

Dr. INDRĖ ČEPONIENĖ

Lithuanian University of Health Sciences
Departments of Cardiology and Radiology
Kaunas, Lithuania

Dr. Indre Ceponiene is a graduate of the Lithuanian University of Health Sciences, Lithuania where she received her medical degree and completed her residency training in cardiology. Dr. Indre Ceponiene also graduated from Imperial College London, United Kingdom, where she was awarded masters degree in Preventive Cardiology. Dr. Ceponiene trained in Hammersmith Hospital, London and CHU Sart-Tilman hospital in Liège, Belgium in the areas of rest and stress echocardiography and vascular ultrasound. In 2015, Dr. Ceponiene has joined the CT Angiography center at Harbor-UCLA Medical Center as a cardiac computed tomography angiography fellow mentored by Matthew J. Budoff, MD. She obtained level 3 and CBCCT certification in cardiac computed tomography. Currently, Dr Indre Ceponiene works as a cardiologist at the Departments of Cardiology and Radiology, Hospital of the Lithuanian University of Health Sciences and is in her final year of PhD studies.